Bring Your Guests To Hear Our Guest Musicians

Andrew Haringer teaches Music and Humanities courses at Quest University Canada in Squamish. He received his BA in Music and History from Dartmouth College in 2003, where he studied piano with Gregory Hayes. He went on to earn his PhD in Historical Musicology from Columbia University in 2012, where he studied harpsichord with Dr. Ken Cooper, and piano with Reiko Uchida. Dr. Haringer has performed throughout North America and Europe in chamber and solo piano concerts, and specializes in lecture recitals that combine his talents as a scholar and performer.

Alexander Kramer was born in 1968 in Vienna, Austria and grew up in Hannover and Munich, West Germany, Barcelona, Spain, Caracas, Venezuela, Salzburg and Linz, Austria and West Hartford, Connecticut. Alex began his collegiate studies with Gordon Epperson in Tucson and finished his degree at Rutgers with the eminent American cellist and founding member of the Beaux Arts Trio, Bernard Greenhouse. Alex has held positions as principal cellist of the Greenville, South Carolina Symphony and Chamber Orchestra and assistant principal cellist of the Charlotte, North Carolina Symphony as well as being a regular extra player with the Atlanta Symphony. Alex is a founding member along with violist Carl St. Jacques and violinist Alan Molina of Evergreen Trio.
